

Dear Friend of CCWF,

Because our first continuing education offering for nurses, other health care professionals, and all interested public was a great success, we have been asked to provide the credits for more conferences. As a result, we wanted to let you know about more upcoming conferences that you may want to attend or let others know about in the area of bioethics especially in this anniversary year of Humanae Vitae. Please visit our website at <http://www.ccwf.org> for more details regarding the course credits (*CE) that are available along with the details regarding fees and refund policies for the cancellation. The particulars and signups for the conferences can be obtained at the following websites:
